Robin's Corner :

Happy Labor Day Rocket families! I am honored to have this day off to honor, recognize and celebrate the American worker and what contributions the American worker makes to our great country. We salute these every day heroes and will have Monday off as a celebration. Today students brought home NWEA test results which will serve as the midterm for first quarter and give you an idea of where students are performing in relation to grade level expectation. We have had a great turnout to our events so far this year. I hope to see you all at 6:30 September 14 for Literacy Night. We will have an IREAD meeting at 6pm that same night for 3rd grade parents.
