PRINCIPAL'S POINT:

Good evening,
 I want to spend this week sharing some interesting information that I found in a recent research article about sleep habits. It says that 5-10 year olds need at least 10-11 hours of sleep each night. If you are waking your child at 7am, then that would mean they should be in bed asleep between 8 and 9 pm in order to get the 10-11 hours they need. Some harmful effects of not getting in 10-11 hours of sleep are: difficulty concentrating or focusing, hyperactivity, defiant behavior, and a few more. I ask you to reflect on your child's bedtime because these are the most important days of their life. It is the beginning of their education and we want to do everything possible to help them be successful. I hope all of you have a wonderful Christmas Break.

Sincerely,

Christy Merchant, Proud Principal
